BITTERS

THE BEST TONIC.

Strengthens the Muscles, Strenuates the Nerves,

Enriches the Blood, Gives New Vigor.

Dr. J. L. MYERS, Fairfield, Iowa, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is the best medicine I have ever used. I practice. I have found it especially beneficial in nervous or physical exhaustion, and in all debilitating ailments that bear heavily on the system. Use it freely in any case."

Mr. W. F. BROWN, 10 Main St., Covington, Ky., says: "I completely broke down in health and troubled with pains in my back. Brown's Iron Bitters entirely restored me to health."

A COAL MINE DISASTER.

MANY WORKMEN PERISH AT RICH HILL, MISSOURI.

Fearful Explosions Follow Each Other, Spreading Death on All Sides.—The Scene at the Mouth of the Shaft Beyond Description.—List of the Victims.

RICH HILL, Mo., March 31.—About noon Thursday a rumbling noise in coal mine No. 6 was followed by a fearful explosion that entirely wrecked the mine and entombed in the debris a large number of miners.

The little village is completely paralyzed by the horror, and men and women are wandering about the streets crying for the return of those known to be in the bottom of the pit.

After the first explosion, Superintendent Sweeney descended into the mine. He had gone but a short distance when the second shock came, the flames enveloping the superintendent and his aids. Nearly all of these are supposed to be lost.

The superintendent of the mine was badly injured but alive, when taken from the shaft. His face was horribly disfigured by the explosion, and the flesh of his arms was torn in shreds. It is thought that he cannot live.

The mine is 240 feet beneath the surface, and the men were just leaving for the dinner hour. About eighty-five men were employed in the mine, but it is not known how many had gone out. The mine is supplied with two shafts. The south one is used by the men when ascending. Eight men were on this cage, and when about half way up there was a sudden trembling of the earth and a loud deafening report, followed by a general collapse of the shaft and timbers flying in all directions.

Although the mine is six miles from town the explosion shook every house.

Nearly everyone seemed to divine its cause, for the next moment saw the muddy streets leading to the shaft filled with half-headed women and children, who screamed as they ran. Such scenes as have been witnessed at the mouth of the shaft since 5 o'clock have no parallel in the Missouri coal fields.

A thousand people, for the most part women and children in tattered clothes, are still at the pit filling the air with their lamentations. The work of recovering the bodies is being prosecuted with frantic haste, but the task is so great as to be almost agonizing. The bodies already removed from the pit show the terrible force of the explosion. Coal dust has been blown into the flesh of the dead until they look like the bodies of negroes. Some of the bodies are frightfully mutilated. Arms, legs and eyes have, in some instances, been blown out of their sockets, while others of the unfortunate have been so cruelly disfigured as to be unrecognizable.

The dead are strewn through the corridors of the mine, and it is feared that all of them will never be recovered, as gas is filling the pit and choking the survivors.

There was a series of explosions. The first, which shook the country for miles around, was followed a few moments later by another shock of even greater violence than the first. The flames began to pour from the mouth of the shaft and in a few moments a sheet of fire nearly one hundred feet in height was streaming skyward.

As the night wore on the stories brought to town as to the number of the dead and the living became more conflicting. At midnight it was reported that over eighty lives were lost, and that the bodies recovered from the seething furnace do not exceed fifteen. When it was seen that those imprisoned in the pit could not live in such a crater, the mine was flooded but the water did not extinguish the fire, which continued to burn fiercely. The grief-stricken people at the mine are helpless to render aid, but they refuse to return to their homes.

When the smoke would permit, the rescuers descended into the mine, where a horrible scene was presented. In the tunnels, chambers and passages where the men were at work they were caught like rats and suffocated and burned before any opportunity of escape was offered. The heat was so intense and the coal dust and smoke was so suffocating that several of the rescuing party succumbed, and had to be carried out by their comrades.

The wounded were first taken out, but they were few and many were beyond all hopes of recovery. Many of the dead were stretched out with tools in their grasp, showing that death came swift and sure. The bodies were all-warm, and it was hard to distinguish the dead from the unconscious living.

As the dead and dying reached the mouth of the shaft, the scenes were agonizing beyond description. Mothers, wives and children pressed forward to identify their dead. The bodies were carried to a blacksmith shop and messengers were despatched to Butler, Nevaia, and Fort Scott for physicians.

The panic and excitement was so great that it was impossible to ascertain the names or the exact number of the dead. A conservative estimate places the number dead at forty-five. There were still alive a large number in the shaft, and all the victims can not be brought to the surface for some time.

Up to an early hour five miners had been taken out dead and five alive. Most of the latter have suffered intensely from the fire and suffocation, and their recovery is very doubtful.

The following is a list of those known to be dead: Charles Smith, George M. May, C. McPherson, Frank Taller, and Arch Marshall, John Lucas and D. C. Jones.

The injured are: Joshua Strickle, C. J. Neptune, William Taylor, C. W. Young, R. Mason, Frank Jackson, W. Richards, L. J. Williams, R. Fernando, John Roberts, Arch Marshall, John Lucas and D. C. Jones.

Fifteen men now remain in the mine, being in the west end, and it is believed that most of them will be taken out dead. The work proceeds very slowly, being attended with great danger.

The Former's Red Hot Editorial Concerning the Letter.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The Herald says editorially:

As to Jay Gould's statements concerning the editor and proprietor of the Herald, let this be a reply: It is false that the prophet of the Herald was dropped from the board of directors of the American Cable company. He was never on any board with which Gould had anything to do. It is false that the proprietor of the Herald ever asked precedence over all others on the Corsair's

CAPTAIN PAUL BOYTON.

The Daring Swimmer Has a Thrilling Experience in Lake Michigan.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Capt. Paul Boyton, the noted swimmer, had an experience in Lake Michigan Tuesday that he thinks he will not forget for some time. The captain has grown heavy during the winter, and to reduce his flesh has recently been taking little pulls out into the lake in his rubber suit. Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock he left Fullerton avenue for a swim to South Chicago and return, and met with the most thrilling adventure of his life, in which he battled for hours with a great ice floe, was carried many miles out into the lake, stripped of his navigating instruments, and lost for fifteen hours in the cold, bleak waste of drifting ice, hanging clouds and straggling ducks and gulls.

From 7 o'clock in the morning until midnight the captain was without food or drink, and the chill of the icy waters had driven him to the desperate resort of hard work all that time, to keep up a vigorous circulation, so that he would not chill and perish in the lake. At midnight, when he was rescued at the crib, his vitality was almost gone.

Stimulants were applied and the daring navigator put to bed. A telephone message was sent to the police that the captain was saved, and by them taken by his little family—a wife and son—who were distracted by his long absence, and supposed he had perished.

BRUTALITY ON A BRITISH SCHOONER.

A Seaman Jumps Overboard to Escape Adrift Two Days.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., March 32.—John Silvia, a seaman, who arrived here on Tuesday last, tells a harrowing story of his ill-treatment while serving as a forecastle hand on board the British schooner Express, now on a voyage to the West Indies. The Express left Baracoa early in February, and was blown out to sea by gales. Silvia states that while weakened by dysentery to an extent that he could scarcely get into his bunk he was forced on deck at rope's end by Capt. Sims, who accused him of shaming, and kept at the pumps. Enfeebled by illness, he twice fell unconscious to the deck, and each time was maltreated by the captain and thrown into the forecastle. Unable to bear his sufferings longer, Silvia jumped overboard. The chill of the water gave him new life, and grasping some drift, he drew himself upon it, and for two days was alone on the storm-swept ocean, when a passing schooner picked him up.

COLLARED IN CANADA.

The Cashier and President of a North Carolina Bank Arrested.

TORONTO, March 31.—Two men, one apparently in middle life and the other quite young, who have been living in magnificent style at the Albion hotel, with a colored lackey in attendance, were suspected of being the defaulting cashier and president of the State National bank, of Raleigh, N. C., and on the strength of a telegram from the chief of police at Raleigh, charging them with forgery, were arrested late Thursday night in their rooms, and taken to the Central station. When they were questioned they declared they were from New Orleans and not the men wanted.

On being examined $15,255 was found in the coat of Samuel C. White, the cashier, and $4,459 in that of Charles E. Cross, the president, secured inside the lining, making in all the sum of $24,714, $600 of which was Getting Restless.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, March 31.—Up to

Thursday evening the switchmen at this point had not quit work, and the railroad officials profess to feel confident that they will not go unless they were provided with arms so that they could defend themselves if set upon by the strikers.

The yardmaster tried to induce them to go out, assuring them that they were in no danger, but the men replied that one was enough guards on the outside trains to proect them. They stood about the Burlington

COME AND SEE THE NEW THINGS

We received and opened this week. Among them is another invoice (the third this season) of our inimitable SPRING OVERCOATS, the most popular garment we ever produced. Look where you will and you will see well-dressed people wear them. There is an individuality about these garments that, at a glance, stamps them genteel and dressy. We confine ourselves within the bounds of truth when we say we show a greater variety of Spring Overcoats than any other house in the State. Our and Children's Suits are considered by mothers perfectly elegant. Look at them in our windows as you pass the store. In our special line of Cheviot and Scotch Tweed Suits we offer our patrons a line of goods for Spring wear that more than favorably compares with most custom work. The style, finish and fit of these Suits is perfect. We want you to come in and try them, and you will agree with us when we say that we can't do these garments justice in advertisements; they must be seen to be appreciated.

The formality of impeaching Tate, the defaulting State Treasurer, was commenced in the Senate at Frankfort Thursday. Let the trial be completed as soon as possible.

SPEAKER CARLISLE's eminent fitness for the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court is recognized on most every hand. We believe his appointment would come as near giving general satisfaction as any that could be made.

The city and township elections in Ohio come off next Monday, and there promises to be some lively contests at several points. Both parties seem to have donned their war paint, and many an aspirant for local honors will lose his scalp in the fight.

A SPECIAL from Richmond, Va., says the reorganization of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad has been practically accomplished. The new company will be worked in harmony with "Big Four" road, connection being made at Cincinnati over the new road down the river.

SENATOR INCALLS only makes a bad matter worse by explaining to the veterans of the war that his villainous tirade against Hancock and McClellan had reference to them as Democrats and not as soldiers. He disgraced himself in the eyes of the American people by leaving his high seat as presiding officer of the Senate to make a political stump speech.

CONGRESSMAN KNUTE NELSON, of Minnesota, is a Republican, but he is a red-hot tariff reformer and does not mince words in letting everybody know it. In a speech in the House Thursday he informed his political brethren that "he would put free sugar, free salt and free lumber against free whisky and free tobacco, and so would the great mass of the American people." Nelson voiced a sentiment that seems to be quite prevalent in several Republican States of the Northwest, one that will cut an important figure in the next national campaign.

Better Than a Government Bond.
Suppose a special agent of the U. S. Treasury Department should call on you today and say:

"The Government would like to sell you bonds for any amount between $1,000 and $30,000, and if it is not convenient for you to make the investment at once, we will allow you to pay for the bonds in ten equal annual installments!"

And, suppose, in addition to this, the Government, wishing to make this the most desirable investment in the world, should stipulate, in the bond, not only to pay them at the end of the term; but in case of your previous death, to pay them to your family and at the same time release your family from paying any further money!

Would you not at once close with such an offer? And yet this is practically what the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, of New York, has done and is doing.

For a full explanation of this plan, address giving your full name, address, occupation and age, George Cohen, State Manager, Central Hotel, Maysville, Ky.

Lone Star will make the present season at the stables of Carr & Tolle on Fourth street, Maysville, Ky., and will be permitted to serve mares at $20 to insure a mare with foal or $25 to insure a living colt to stand up and suck. Money due when the mare is known to be in foal or parted with. Care will be taken to prevent accidents, but will not be responsible should any occur. A lien will be retained on colts for the service money. Grass furnished on reasonable terms to mares from a distance.

Description and pedigree: Lone Star is a steel brown, foaled 1883, and is sixteen hands high, bred by Dr. Keene. He goes all the gaits well; took first premium over ten aged stallions in sweepstakes, and seven in his own ring at the Harrodsburg Fair in 1886. Beat such noted stallions as King Eagle, Monte Christo and Red Squirrel when ever shown. (Red Squirrel was sold to W. F. Ousley, of Burksville, Ky., last November, for $2,250.) He is by the noted stallion Moss Rose, that took the $150 premium at the St. Louis Fair in 1886 over stallions, mares and geldings, and the $100 park premium at the same place. He sold for $1,800 under the hammer.

THE INCURABLE CURED!

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 24, 1887.

Gentlemen—Seven years ago a sore developed on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. Many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do any good. I was told it was cancerous and I was told it was not. At first it irritated the sore, and it became more virulent than ever; so much so, indeed, that my family insisted that I should let a surgeon have a look at it. I went to Dr. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November, ten months after, a sore began breaking out on my left cheek. It was a sore ulcer, and had apparently no regard to it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me. Yours respectfully,

Mrs. Anna Wilson.

Gentlemen—Two or three years ago a cancer came on my face. It soon grew to be quite large. It wore on me, and my general health was poor. I was told it was cancerous, and I was told it was not. At first I began a course of S. S., which I have continued to the present time with the happiest result. The cancer has entirely disappeared, there being no evidence of any cancerous character left. My general health is good now, and my appetite better than it has been in years. I am 52 years old, and to day I am working in the field planting corn. Yours truly,

JACOB HUMMEL a stonemason who did considerable work on the "Cox Building," died Thursday at his home in Cincinnati from injuries received by a failing scaffold while he was employed on a school building in Cumminsville. Hummel made many friends while here, who will regret to learn of his sudden death.

IS referring to the Dobyns-Clarke nuptials at Millersburg the Bourbon News says: "The couple first met about a year ago, when Mr. Dobyns came to Kentucky to visit a Mason County lady. A rivalry immediately sprang up between the Bourbon and Mason County belles, in which the Bourbon belle came out victorious."

WE are informed that the suit now pending in the Circuit Court between Squire Wesley Vicroy and Mrs. Vicroy is not an action for divorce, but was brought to settle the title to some land. We are further informed that the filing of the suit was a little premature and that the action will be withdrawn in a few days.

OWENS & BARKLEY call the attention of the farmers to the fact that they have the agency for the sale of the celebrated Ross cutters, both hand and power, also lever cutters, which will be sold for less money than they can be bought anywhere else. They have a large stock of "O & B." and Haven's roller and lever cutters at very low prices. Full stock of hoes, rakes, forks, shovels, picks, mattocks, &c., &c. They invite all interested in such goods to call and see them and get prices. Having sold about three hundred plows, they have a few left at low prices.

MARSHAL JAMES HEFLIN has received his commission as Colonel of the Second Regiment, U. R. K. of P., of this State.

Mrs. W. D. Rash and children, of Winchester, and Misses Mamie and Ella Cummings, who have been attending school at Cincinnati, are visiting Mrs. Dr. Strode.

THE Montgomery Circuit Court has dismissed the suit of Bramblett & Gibson vs. Wm. McCray, for $15,000 damages for the failure of the latter to deliver his tobacco crop to the former, to whom he had sold it.

JAMES HAMILTON, a drummer who represents A. J. Clark, of Cincinnati, was fined $25 and costs at Paris a few days ago for offering to sell shirts and furnishing goods by sample to consumers, without a city license. He will appeal the case.

AT the Church of the Nativity, tomorrow, the services will be as follows: Early celebration of the holy communion at 7 a. m., morning prayer, sermon and second communion at 11 a. m.; Sunday school, Easter sermon at 4 p. m.; evening prayer with Easter address at 7:30 p. m.

WORK on the residence Mr. James Has- son intends building on West Second street, near the new depot, will be commenced next Monday. Messrs. Lane & Worrick have the contract. The building will be 24 by 45 feet, two stories high, and will contain seven rooms and two halls. It will be supplied with all modern conveniences.

MR. JAMES K. SROUFE yesterday re- signed his position as assistant civil engineer on the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad. Mr. Sroufe has been connected with the road for the past two or three years, and has proved one of the most faithful and efficient men in its service. We understand he has offers of two or three positions elsewhere.

THE BULLETIN is indebted to Mrs. Wm. Winn, who is now on a visit to her son, Lieutenant Winn at San Francisco, for late copies of the papers of that city. One of them contains an account of the burial of Loo Yolk, Grand Master of Chee Kong Tong, the California branch of the Chinese Grand Lodge of Freemasons. Loo Yolk's funeral cost $10,000.

UNITED STATES STOREKEEPER THOMAS W. WHEATLY, at Poyntz & Son's distillery the past month, will change places with Mr. W. B. McAtee, who has been on duty at Poyntz's. Mr. C. L. Stanton will remain at Rogers & Co. Mr. Jno. C. Everett will succeed Mr. V. H. Perkins on night duty, the latter having been assigned to duty at Paris. Mr. R. D. McCaughan, glazier, will return to Paris, and Mr. E. W. Fitzgerald will resume his position at this place. These are the assignments for April.

MR. JAMES PERRY, of the Manchester Signal, was present at the meeting of Pisgah Encampment, I. O. O. F., the other night when three candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the Royal Purple degree. He alludes to the occasion as follows: "To say the work was done in most excellent manner but faintly expresses the success of organized team work. After the Encampment adjourned a bountiful supper was given the visiting Patriarchs at Heiser's Hotel.

"The brethren at Maysville are Patriarchs indeed, dispensing their hospitality in a liberal way."

NOTICE.

It affords us extraordinary pleasure to inform the public generally that we have recently received, and manufactured too, a very superior line of carriage work, excelling in an eminent degree any goods heretofore offered for sale by us. Therefore, we extend all a cordial invitation to visit our warerooms before making a purchase, because we are confident that we have inducements to offer. Respectfully, MALL & SHACKLEFORD, Nos. 10 & 16 Sutton St., Maysville, Ky.

SWITZERLAND MENACED.

BISMARCK CLAIMS SHE SHELTERS DANGEROUS EXILES.

The Conditions of Both Italians and Abyssinians Not the Best—Fear Expressed for the Italians—Russia Preparing to Gobble Bulgaria—Cablegrams.

LONDON, March 31.—A Berlin dispatch says that while the approval by the emperor on Monday last, of the anti-Socialist law has placed a powerful weapon in the hands of Prince Bismarck, the chancellor's irritation against Switzerland which he claims offers a shelter to the most dangerous of the exiles grows stronger every day.

This feeling has been intensified by an official note from the Swiss government complaining of the conduct of the Prussian police agents in the Zurich affair, which has been a tender subject for both Prince Bismarck and Herr Puttkammer ever since the latter was overwhelmed in the Reichstag with indubitable proofs that he had dispatched police spies to Switzerland, not to watch the plottings of the terrorists, but to stir up sedition and then herald it forth to the discredit of the Helvetic confederation.

The diplomatic note referred to states that the Swiss government regrets the indiscretion of the Zurich police commissioner in furnishing to the German Socialist deputies particulars with which they so ignominiously routed Herr Puttkammer, but demands of the Berlin authorities that they shall abstain in the future from sending into Switzerland men whose object is to foment disturbances and trouble to the public peace. But beyond the Zurich incident, it is claimed that the Swiss have developed a surprising fondness for their French neighbors, and an equally decided dislike of their friends, the Germans. Prince Hohenlohe, the governor of Alsace-Lorraine, has complained of anonymous pamphlets and songs, emanating from Bern, it is said, and the Official North German Gazette takes the Swiss to task in a bitter editorial.

King John Must Act Soon.

ROME, March 31.—A dispatch from Massowah intimates that King John cannot long hold the position his forces now occupy, for lack of provisions and water. The dispatch implies that the Italians are in a perilous situation, while, unfortunately, the prophecy regarding King John's commissary department is only a guess.

Within four weeks the dense green cover of thorn bush, grasses and weeds which now hide the Abyssinian operations from the Italians will become parched and dry and more open. The district will have become an arid waste, and the hot and poisonous atmosphere will have more than indemnified the Italian army. The rain has now ceased and the earth steams under the sun's rays.

Rumors here report that King John, of Abyssinia, has invited King Humbert to personally discuss, in a manner worthy of kings, the disputes over which he and the Italian government are quarreling.

To Move on Bulgaria.

CRACOW, March 31.—All the artillery brigades in Poland have been ordered to send half their reserve ammunition to Kischentz, where, it is reported, a flying corps is being organized, which will be designated as the vanguard for Bulgaria.

Kischentz is in Bessarabia, on the railroad connecting Odessa with the Grand Trunk railway extending the entire length of eastern Romania and through Galicia westward from the Danube to Cracow. It is of great strategic importance, and Cossack cavalry have been long stationed on the Romanian frontier, ready to pounce upon it should occasion require. By land Russia must pass through Romania to reach the Bulgarian frontier on the Danube.

Russia Intriguing in Roumania.

LODON, March 31.—Roumanian advises that M. Hitrovo, the Russian minister at Bucharest, was the organizer of the recent riots in that city.

There is no doubt that under instruction Russian agents are industriously intriguing both in Roumania and Bulgaria with a view to creating an excuse for military interference.

The New Emperor Takes a Ride.

BERLIN, March 32.—Emperor Frederick and Empress Victoria drove in half open carriage from Charlottenburg to Berlin today, and paid a visit to the Dowager Empress Augusta. They received enthusiastic greetings along the road. The imperial family attended morning service in the castle chapel at Charlottenburg.

Dreadful Calamities.

PESTI, March 31.—A number of calamitous fires occurred in Hungary during the prevalence of a gale. At Kikindia 1,500 persons were rendered shelterless and are camping out in the snow. Thirty-eight houses were burned and many lives were lost at Mezo Berenz.

Cablegrams.

Gen. Boulanger has entered actively upon a political campaign.

In Hungary, at Casaba, nineteen houses have been burned, and at Betinda 200.

The marriage of Prince Henry, of Prussia, and Princess Irene, of Hesse, is fixed for May 2.

M. Pacol, a Napoleonic journalist, who was a French under secretary of state in 1873, has committed suicide.

The Conservatives have decided to contest the Dutin parliamentary seat made vacant by the death of E. Dwyer Gray.

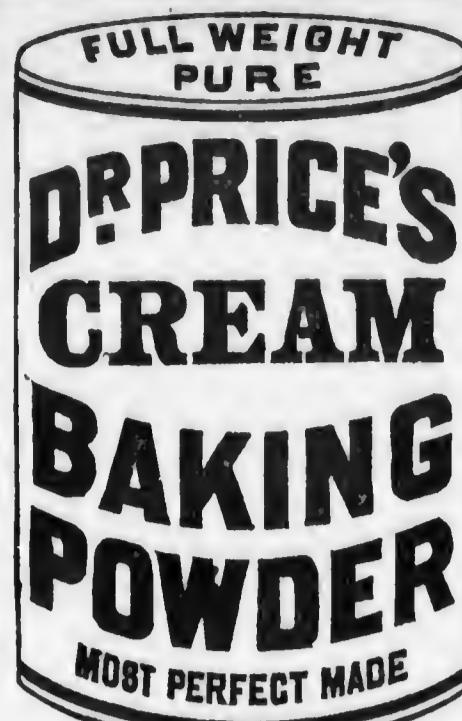

Rev. Wesley Garde, of Dublin, sailed on the steamer Britannic from Queenstown for New York. He will represent the Irish Methodists at the approaching conference in New York.

The Russian minister of France has again presented to the council of the empire a bill permitting the use of metal currency in business dealings in Russia. The minister now insists upon the acceptance of the measure.

The committee of the chamber of deputies, which has been considering the recent election of M. Flourens, French minister of foreign affairs, as deputy for the department of Haute-Alpes, has made a report to the full committee recommending that the election be annulled, on the ground that it was secured by the use of undue official influence.

Brothers Fight With Knives.

SPENCERVILLE, O., March 31.—John and Ike Monroe, brothers, had a fight Thursday morning. Knives were used, and both were terribly lacerated about the head and face.
